Patented

Small dogs

Medium dogs

Developed under veterinary supervision, based on animal engineering

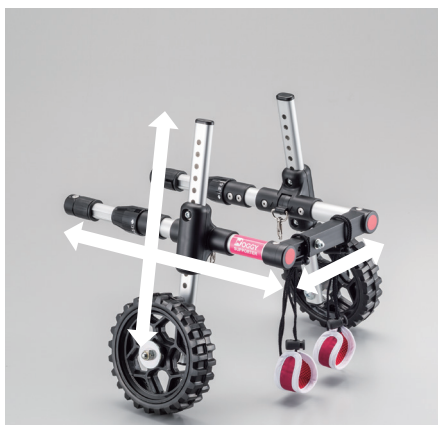

Frame S + harness ① shown

3D adjustment system

The 3D adjustment system accommodates individual differences for a close fit. Designed using animal engineering principles to reduce the risk of tipping even when a dog moves suddenly. Hind-leg slings, which are often offered as optional accessories, are included as standard.

Size S uses suspension cords and ankle supports. Size M uses suspension belts and pouch-style foot supports.

DGS-S

DGS-M

Frame M + harness ③ shown

The large wheels (150φ) roll easily. Their outward-angled arrangement helps resist tipping.

Veterinarian's comments

Some dog breeds are predisposed to hind-leg paralysis. Well-known examples include intervertebral disc herniation in Miniature Dachshunds and Beagles, and degenerative myelopathy in Welsh Corgis. Environmental measures may help prevent some cases, but many have a genetic predisposition, making 100% prevention difficult. DOGGY SUPPORTER incorporates animal engineering principles to reduce the burden of wearing the device and help pets move as they wish. Dogs with hind-leg paralysis often retain good movement in their front legs. Wearing DOGGY SUPPORTER may help them regain some of their former mobility.

These comments were requested by our company from a veterinarian, then edited for publication.

Fastens on the back. Hook-and-loop fasteners and hooks allow adjustment to individual dogs.

The harness separates into upper and lower sections for easy fitting and removal.

The neck section is designed to help minimize discomfort. Its length is adjustable on size M.

Size chart

Item	Size	Length cm	Height cm	Chest cm	Waist cm
Harness	①	25 ~30		36 ~41	33 ~41
	②	27 ~35		40 ~50	37 ~48
	③	32 ~45		45 ~65	43 ~58
Frame	S	25 ~35	16 ~30
	M	32 ~45	24 ~42

- If the waist is too slim, wrap a towel or similar material around it to adjust the fit.
- If measurements fall between 2 sizes, choose the larger harness and the smaller frame.
- If the measurements fall outside this chart, consult store staff or contact PETs ADVANCE via its website.

Walking-aid frame

JAN	Model	Size	Height cm	Weight kg
4989247559013	DGS-S	S	16 ~30	1.3
4989247559143	DGS-M	M	24 ~42	1.6

Materials: frame - aluminum alloy; wheels - EVA.

Frame S comes with treaded wheels; frame M comes with smooth wheels as standard. To change the tires, purchase the optional parts. Replacement must be performed by the customer.

Dedicated harness
